What you do that meet this level	I take my pupils to the ICT lab, so they can work in pairs on the pc. First of all, I suggest them to explore freely the apps, searching for games and activities. Then I focus their attention on some specific activities, matching both their interests and their language level. So each couple can progress from easier exercises to more difficult ones. I find these sites very useful to improve vocabulary and pronunciation.
Draft actions to move to the next level	encourage pupils to make their own set using a simple template on the site
